CIVIL WAR SWEEPS GERMANY

WAR ON VICE WILL PURIFY CHINATOWN

Chief Lynch Outlines Policy of Aggression to Be Launched on Gambling Houses and Resorts to Make City Clean

Increased Number of Crimes
Is Laid to Drug Habit; No
Let-Up on Burglary Reports;
Crime Gathers Momentum

While the attention of the police is being directed toward closing gambling houses and Chinese lotteries and toward a supervision of card games in pool rooms, there is no let-up in the number of reports of burglaries, robberies and hold-ups in various parts of the city, according to today's police reports.

Gambling in Chinatown is to be ended, the lotteries there are to be closed, and certain places suspected of housing games where money is exchanged from player to player are being watched. Chief of Police J. F. Lynch announced today, adding that in respect to these places the city is to establish a new record for civic cleanliness.

Coupled with the announcement that more raids are to be made upon the gamblers and that no suspicion of gaming is to be allowed in the shady precincts of Chinatown, has come the discovery by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety E. F. Morse that card games are being played in pool rooms and that disreputable persons are using such places as a "hangout." The commissioner has called for an investigation which will mean a survey of all of these places and the employment of officers who might otherwise be nabbing a burglar. In his orders to Chief Lynch Lynch said: "At the same time we are faced with a decided increase in the number of robberies, burglaries and holdups. In a situation in which we review the situation and provision at least an end to the gambling, the chief said:

"While I do not agree with the opinion expressed by some that vice resorts and places of amusement are a flagrant and open manner in this city, there is undoubtedly more or less violation of the gambling and other municipal anti-vice ordinances. But I am sure that in comparison to other cities, Oakland is comparatively clean, and it is the intention of the police department to make it more so."

"The truth is, the city has grown much faster than the size of the police department. People do not realize that in a rate of increase of time, Oakland has emerged from the vice-ridden residential city class to an important industrial center, and that the problem of adequate police protection has grown in proportion."

"At the present time the police force is too small for the many calls made upon it but, at the same time every man in it is working hard and conscientiously and I feel that the department was never doing better work than it is today. All we ask is the maximum service in the way of police protection."

REVOCAION OF LICENSE NEXT MOVE.
In another part of the vice crusade will be the revocation of licenses and dancing permits in all the cafes found violating the national prohibition statute. Chief of Police Lynch said that this applies to the cafes planning to dispense liquid libations tonight and tomorrow night. Extra men will be put on the downtown beats both nights.

Chinatown is to be closed tight as a further move against any form of vice in Oakland. Lotteries will be rigidly suppressed. Already the long-established project of a "kick-out" has come to grief, and several offenders arrested yesterday on suspicion were booked on the police blotter under this heading. It is the intention of the police to place them in custody wherever they are found in order to facilitate the securing of evidence in gambling house raids.

Among those who were arrested in Chinatown yesterday and charged with violating gambling ordinances were Lee Foo, Quong Gee and Noah Beagles. The latter is also charged with being a drug addict, and the police announced that a vigorous campaign will be instituted against all "hop heads."

When this vice campaign is satisfactorily concluded, the police state that a marked decrease in the number of petty crimes can be looked for. The police are confident that the advent of national prohibition will have a tendency to minimize the number of arrests.

FOG CAUSES FOUR FERRYBOATS TO COLLIDE ON BAY

Scores of passengers aboard the Western Pacific ferry boat "William T. Jeffreys" and the Southern Pacific ferry boat "Piedmont" were thrown into a panic when the two vessels crashed together this morning in a dense fog a short distance off slip 7 of the ferry building in San Francisco.

The "Piedmont," which had left the slip, was backed into by the "Jeffreys," the impact tearing away many feet of railing, on both craft. No one was injured and both vessels were able to resume their regular schedules.

Later the Northwestern Pacific ferryboat "Cazadero" collided with the ferryboat "Tamalpais" of the same line, but the impact was so light that no damage was done. There were no passengers on the "Tamalpais."

LYNCH REVIEWS CRIME SITUATION.

Speaking of the efforts of his department to run vice out of Oakland, Chief Lynch said: "At the same time we are faced with a decided increase in the number of robberies, burglaries and holdups. In a situation in which we review the situation and provision at least an end to the gambling, the chief said:

COLONISTS IN MEXICO SLAIN SOLONS TOLD

Founder Blalock of Chamal
Testifies Before Committee
That Bandits Killed Seven;
Governor Saves Twenty-One

Witnesses Will Declare That American Ranchers Backed by Ring of Politicians Are Spared While Others Robbed

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 14.—George E. Blalock of San Antonio, founder of the Chamal colony in Tamaulipas in 1902, which was overrun by bandits and seven of the colonists killed, was the first witness called before the Senate subcommittee investigating the Mexican situation when the hearing opened today. The witness was questioned by Senator Fall.

Blalock said it was reported ninety-two families were in the colony at the end of the first year and 110 children. About the time of the Vera Cruz incident they were notified by American Consul Miller that the Mexican government was removing them from the colony. Families gradually began to return until there were thirty-four families when the second exodus took place in 1918.

The exodus occurred when a Carranza officer came to us with about 150 men and said he had come to kill us because we had not left our warnings," Blalock testified.

COLONISTS LINED UP EXECUTION IS STAGED.
"The Mexicans sacked the houses and killed twenty-one of the colonists against a wall to be shot, but a messenger arrived with an official letter from the Carranza government, ordering the women and children to be spared. The men were lined up and most of the men fled to the mountains," Blalock said.

Evidence in support of a charge that American ranchers in Mexico who have had the backing of a ring of American politicians in Southwest Texas have enjoyed immunity from bandit raids while other American ranchers have been unable to obtain protection from Carranza, will be offered at the hearings. Witnesses who will testify to this charge reached San Antonio last night.

SEVEN ARE HELD AS SMUGGLERS ON TRANSPORT LOGAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Seven of the officers and crew and a woman passenger on the United States army transport Logan which arrived here last Thursday from Manila, are being held by the federal authorities here in connection with what the authorities say was a daring attempt to smuggle thousands of dollars worth of silks, pearls and other articles into this country, according to Collector of the Port John S. Irby.

Discovery of the alleged plot, according to Irby, was caused by the unwitting participation in the scheme of Mrs. D. C. Palston, wife of an army officer at Manila. Mrs. Palston is said to have been used as a medium by those concerned in the plot, to get the goods aboard the vessel at Manila, and later to land them here. She is to be held as a witness against those involved.

They are L. C. Bartsch, an engineer; E. Long, second steward; Albert Bracher, chief steward; I. E. Hall, quartermaster agent; W. C. Johnson, first officer; E. Brady, a seaman; R. Kienberg, ship's butcher. Irby said the goods had been confiscated and that confessions had been secured from most of those concerned in the alleged plot. It has been determined that the goods were to be turned over to the federal authorities or to their superior officers on the Logan, their offense being punishable by two years in prison and a fine of $500.

New Jury Continues Its Deliberations

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—Twenty hours of deliberation have failed to bring an agreement among the members of the jury in the case of Harry S. New, accused of murder.

After having told the court shortly before 11 o'clock today that it was not ready to be discharged, the jury continued deliberations until noon and then took an hour for lunch.

Refusal of the jury to be discharged and the fact that it voluntarily asked to be sent to lunch and then brought back for further consideration of the case, strengthened the belief that a single point is delaying the verdict and that an agreement eventually will be reached.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Appointment of prominent Californians to a committee on platform and policy which will suggest a platform for the Republican party and which will present that suggestion to the national convention in Chicago, was expected to be announced by National Chairman Will C. Hays before he leaves for Reno tonight or on Friday, when he returns for a few hours before the departure of his party for Los Angeles.

Chairman Hays, the national committeemen, and State Chairman Raymond Benjamin were guests today at a luncheon and reception at the Union League Club. John L. McNab, president, and the visiting Republican leaders were given an additional opportunity to talk to prominent members of their party, not only from California, but from many points in the northwest.

WOMEN REJOICE AT FAVORABLE COMMENT

Women in the delegation today are rejoicing at the manner in which the resolutions they drew up yesterday have been received and at the favorable comment which has been passed upon them. After an all-day conference the women representatives of six states, California, Washington, Nevada, Idaho, Oregon and Nevada, called upon the Republican committee on platform and policy, to be appointed by Chairman Hays, to consider the following twelve items which they asked:

1. National and state legislation for the regulation of child labor.
2. National and state legislation for the establishment of not more than an eight-hour day, a 44-hour week and a weekly day of rest for women in industry.
3. The establishment of the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor on a permanent statutory basis.
4. The establishment of a national employment service, with adequate provision for departments for women in national offices, and in all localities.
5. Appointment of both men and women as mediators in the conciliation service of the Department of Labor, and as members of any wage adjustment boards or mediation boards appointed in the federal government to deal with industries employing women.
6. Equal pay for equal service.
7. Direct citizenship for women.
8. Naturalization for married women to be made possible.
9. Employment on the part of the Federal Board of Vocational Education to insure for women equal opportunities with men in trade and technical education.
10. Compulsory education in every state for all children between 5 and 16, thirty-six years of age and over, and that we favor such changes in our educational system as will provide for thorough education for all citizens of all our youth.
11. Full support to secure a federal department of education.
12. A pledge for national minimum wage legislation for women.

HAYS STAY CROWDED WITH CONFERENCE

Hays' hours in San Francisco have been crowded with delegations waiting their turn for conferences. One of the visiting groups of particular interest to the national chairman was that from Stanford, where the students have organized a Republican club under the leadership of Leonard Wood. The Stanford men, despite the relationship to the soldier-candidate, told Hays that the club opposed the idea of a soldier running for the presidency. After the Stanford conference Hays said the San Francisco county Republican committee, the chairman of which is Bert Kahn, brother of Representative Julius Kahn, Hays told them: "It is you upon whom we must rely for success. We of the state committee and the national committee are not the ones who win the battles. We are like the generals who are safe behind the lines, where the shells do not fall. You men on the front are the soldiers."

DISCUSS METHODS TO GET FULL VOTE

Methods to arouse the indifferent citizen and to force a full expression at the polls were discussed at many of the sessions and the men who do not register were roundly scored.

At the Palace last night, where Hays delivered the main address of the campaign, the chairman made clear his position as an "elector" and not a selector of candidates.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—(Havas)—Thirty-one persons were killed during the riot in front of the Reichstag building in Berlin yesterday, according to Berlin advices reaching here today.

The cabinet of the National government, together with the Prussian cabinet, has issued a statement in which the members declare unanimously for the maintenance of order by all means available.

BERLIN, Tuesday, Jan. 13, 8 p. m. (By The Associated Press)—The government tonight proclaimed martial law in all sections of Germany following the mob demonstration this afternoon in which at least ten persons were killed and many others injured.

Gustav Noske, the minister of defense, has been appointed commander-in-chief for the Greater Berlin district and Brandenburg Province. Street parades, meetings and demonstrations of all kinds have been prohibited.

BERLIN, Jan. 13 (By The Associated Press)—Many persons were killed and wounded in a melee by the members of a mob and police guards in front of the Reichstag building late this afternoon. The mob, organized by extremists as a protest against the industrial council's bill now before the Reichstag, began to gather this morning. By noon every street leading to the Tiergarten was crowded with masses of people carrying red flags and placards.

Anticipating a demonstration before the Reichstag building, the authorities had surrounded the building with Public Security Guards and machine gunners who barred all approaches. As time passed the crowd was joined by striking tram employees and soon inflammatory speeches were begun by agitators.

TROOP REINFORCEMENTS ARRIVE IN MOTOR TRUCKS.
When the Reichstag convened at 3 o'clock the crowd surrounding the building was estimated at 40,000 and new delegations of working people carrying red flags and banners inscribed with the words, "All power to the Soviets," continued to arrive. Troop reinforcements in huge motor trucks were added to the guards on duty but only one arrest had been made since noon.

Attempts by the guards to disperse the crowds quietly were unheeded. At last the mob made a rush against the police lines, trying to disarm the guards and disable the machine guns. When it was seen the mob could not be checked in any other way, fire was opened on the shooting mob at close range and the front of the building was littered with dead and wounded. Order was soon restored.

CORRESPONDENT COUNTS
TWENTY BODIES OF VICTIMS.
The Reichstag continued its sitting until 5 o'clock, at which time it was announced ten bodies of persons killed in the fight had been brought into the court of the building.

Rifle and machine gun fire was opened on the mob at 3:40 o'clock and lasted five minutes. At that time several around the west portal of the building. Later the correspondent of the Associated Press counted at least twenty men lying in the outskirts of the Tiergarten, apparently killed in the fighting. When the troops began firing the crowds ran pell-mell in all directions.

At the sound of the guns members of the lower house of the Reichstag left the assembly chamber and crowded into the lounge room. The only faint reports of the shots. Gradually news of the clash reached the chamber and an exodus followed into the corridors, into which a score of men from the mob succeeded in penetrating and placed in nearby hospitals. This made a considerable time after the shooting, although many were carried off quickly by the sanitary corps and placed in nearby hospitals. ## FOUL PLAY CHARGED IN GIRL'S DEATH

Condemning as "utterly foolish" a theory that her sister, Miss Maude Wolfe, committed suicide, Miss Florence L. Wolfe declared today that foul play must be reckoned with in the case of the woman whose body was found half out of the water near Bay Farm Island bridge, Alameda.

Identification of the body, at first thought to be that of Mrs. Katherine Palmer, missing Oakland woman, was made at the Alameda morgue late yesterday by Miss Wolfe.

The sister began today a round of officials in San Francisco and Alameda to demand that the fullest investigation be made of events leading to the tragedy.

The theory that the woman might have jumped from a ferry boat was advanced by Deputy Coroner A. P. Smiley, who said there would have been plenty of time, since the woman was seen alive last on Saturday for the body to have drifted with the tide to Shell Point, where it was discovered.

Miss Wolfe might have been thrown from the ferry boat was an explanation proposed by other officials.

The last time I saw my sister alive was on Saturday afternoon, said Miss Florence Wolfe. "That was about 3 o'clock. She was in excellent spirits. Any talk that my sister committed suicide is foolish."

Deputy Coroner Smiley said there were no marks of violence on the woman's body.

The body was discovered by Joseph Arata, 15-year-old boy, who had been hunting ducks in the Alameda marshes.

Johnson Demands Treaty As Issue During Campaign

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Senator Hiram Johnson of California declared in an address in Brooklyn last night he would accept the challenge of President Wilson to take the ratification of the peace treaty to the people.

"I don't care whether Republican leaders accept this gauge of battle or not," he said. "For one, I accept the issue, and I shall go to the people. A subject which deals so intimately with the treasure and blood of the average American is a subject upon which he has the right to ultimate decision."

"Politicians upon one side or the other may seek to avoid this issue, but I say with all solemnity, if the politicians unite with absolute unanimity in hindering this subject, and endeavoring to prevent its discussion, the American people will wrest it from the politicians and themselves decide it."

DEMANDS FREE SPEECH

After reiterating his advocacy of the treaty with reservations, Senator Johnson warned against the suppression of free speech and right of assembly. Every infringement of the law should be drastically punished, he said, and no endeavor to overturn the Government by force or violence could be tolerated, "but the difficulty in some quarters appears to be a certain vagueness as to what constitutes law and order."

The Senator continued: "There are those today who, lashing themselves into a fury against men holding opinions contrary to theirs, would suppress free legitimate expression; and on the other hand, there are those who preach sedition, and would destroy all human initiative and confiscate the fruits of all human endeavor."

Your task and mine, indeed that of the Republican party, is to prevent the consummation of either wicked design, and safely to proceed on our way between reaction on the one hand and ultra-radicalism on the other."

The preacher of violence and the public advocate of the bomb and the torch must be drastically dealt with under the law and by the law's procedure, punished for its violation. But the right of any citizen within the law to express his views and beliefs is as sacred as the right of property itself and must be as zealously guarded. The reaction which would prevent legitimate free speech, which would make government the mentor of men's honest opinions, spells in itself revolution.

SCORES NEW YORK ACTION.

In a free country, men and women may agitate for such political reforms and changes as they see fit; but they must confine their agitation to lawful means and stay within the constitution. When, however, men within the constitution agitate for social or political change, elect representatives to a legislative body, all Americans although they may be as far apart as the poles from the political ideas expressed, must demand that the constitution be obeyed and respected and the representatives thus elected by the majority, acting within the law and the constitution, must be protected. If you can exclude Socialists in New York today, tomorrow you may exclude Republicans in Mississippi and Democrats in Pennsylvania.

We can only continue as a republic by free public opinion. Censorship and governmental propaganda first curtail and limit freedom and then destroy it. We have been picking our pockets to poison our minds in the last few years we have been flitting from taxpayers millions of money for governmental propaganda, not to disseminate information, but to hide defeat and defeatism, and to praise what was not always praiseworthy. If any group, even a governmental group, has the right to public funds to feed misinformation to people, the shackling of freedom is not far distant.

And in this connection the right of expression of opinion means the expression of opinions that are wrong as well as those with which we may thoroughly agree. Ideas imprisoned become high treason, while ideas unconstrained are as harmless as powder unconfined.

The preacher of violence and the public advocate of the bomb and the torch must be drastically dealt with under the law and by the law's procedure, punished for its violation. But the right of any citizen within the law to express his views and beliefs is as sacred as the right of property itself and must be as zealously guarded. The

Dickie, Louis Stone, Washington Miller and Walter Reed. ## DEMOCRATS OF ALAMEDA CO. PREPARE

The Alameda county Democratic central committee will be called together next week, for the first time in many months, to plan for the next campaign and arrange to co-operate in preparations for the national convention in San Francisco, today announced H. H. McPike, county chairman.

A spirited contest looms for places on the Alameda county delegation to the convention, and the "war horses" of the party are credited with close figuring to give women representation on the committee.

The names of two women who have been urged for this honor were mentioned today by McPike. They are Mrs. Virginia Spinks of Berkeley who was active in the last Democratic campaign in connection with the work of the state committee, and Mrs. Charles L. Donohue, wife of the census enumerator in this district.

RACE FOR DELEGATES

Party leaders, including McPike, James Walsh, secretary of the county central committee, and William J. Hayes, secretary of the Jefferson Club, all mentioned today, as the most likely candidates among the men for a place among the delegates, George Beck of Livermore, Beck, a former assemblyman, has been a staunch Democrat for many years.

According to the three men mentioned, Beck is almost certain to be one choice. Henry Harwood is another who must be given consideration, according to Walsh.

As the county is entitled only to two delegates and one alternate, the competition promises to be lively. The question will be up to the State Central Committee, of which Daniel S. Ewing of Fresno is chairman.

BLAMES DEMOCRATS.

The county committee faces a peculiar situation in that the secretary, Walsh, has declared repeatedly that he will be a Republican in the next campaign. Chairman McPike expressed confidence that Walsh, who has been a follower of Hiram Johnson, would be back in the Democratic fold as soon as the campaign actually unfolded. Walsh himself said today that he was certain of only one thing, his opposition to the present Democratic administration, which he said was in blame for the present wave and other calamitous events.

"The country has gone to the bow-wows," he said, "and the administration, with its legislation, is to blame for it."

University Purchases Land for New Farm

At a cost of over $200,000 the regents of the University of California have decided upon the purchase of 300 acres of the Gage tract near Riverside, together with 80 acres adjacent, and 45 inches of water right in the Gage canal. The decision to acquire the property was made at the meeting of the board yesterday. The land will be purchased under authorization of the act of the legislature providing authority for the regents to acquire land for future development of university farms. There is no capital available at the present time for this development, but it is the intention of the university, as soon as the means are provided, to develop the tract along the lines of the Davis farm, specializing in Southern California crops.

CHANGES IN CITY HEALTH DEPT., PLAN

Changes in the city charter necessary to put into operation recommendations for a reorganization of the municipal health department made in the recent report of the State Board of Health after a survey of health and sanitation conditions in the city, are under consideration, according to a statement made by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Morse.

The report of the state board has been placed by Morse before City Attorney Hagan for an investigation and report on what charter changes and legal steps will be necessary in order to carry out the changes suggested.

Adoption of the chief recommendations made as the result of the long investigation will mean a complete reorganization of the municipal health department, providing for a board of health to consist of five persons, at least three of whom shall be physicians, with a health officer selected by the board as president of the body.

COMPLETE JURISDICTION

The health officer, under the proposed change, shall be a full-time official with complete jurisdiction and control over all matters pertaining to health and sanitation. Different bureaus are provided far to handle the various phases of the department work, and the Board of Health will have the power to appoint chiefs of these bureaus, which include medical inspection, food inspection, sanitary inspection, laboratories and records and statistics. Under the present system these chiefs are appointed by the commissioner of public health and safety.

CLOSER COOPERATION

According to Commissioner Morse, the carrying out of the recommendations will mean also a move for closer cooperation and a practical consolidation of the health and school departments, and a reduction in the number of municipal nurses. Investigation of the report is being made by Hagan, who will submit a report soon to Morse. Several amendments to the charter will be necessary to carry out the plan, Hagan says, but there are other recommendations that can be put into effect through ordinances.

ARMY MEDALS ARE UNFAIRLY GIVEN; IS SAID

Admiral Sims and to make an effort to gain widespread publicity for it.

In his letter to Secretary Daniels declining to accept a Distinguished Service Medal awarded to him, Admiral Sims made no reference to any specific case of awards of navy decorations, but did express objection to the awarding of Distinguished Service Medals to officers who lost their ships while officers on his staff for whom he had recommended the Distinguished Service Medal received lesser awards.

Admiral Sims has written another letter to Daniels headed "Sims."

ARMY TO CHECK POPULARITY OF CARRANZA'S FOE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Mexican federal troops are being rushed to the state of Sonora to "suppress the popularity" of General Alvaro Obregon, candidate for the presidency, according to official advice from the border received here today.

Obregon is a candidate in opposition to Carranza's party.

thought about lessons of the world war," the secretary said today, adding that he had not read all of it but indicating that it dealt with the general question of naval morale and efficiency and was "controversial" in tone.

Daniels said that if it was found on examination that the letters contained nothing which should not be made public, he would give it out together with his reply. Admiral Sims commanded American naval forces overseas during the war and is now head of the naval war college at Newport.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Charges that many army medals for distinguished service were distributed unfairly were made in the House by Representative Gallivan of Massachusetts, in urging a complete investigation by the House committee.

After spirited debate, the House by a vote of 182 to 122 adopted the resolution by Representative Gallivan ordering an investigation.

Many officers who never heard a shot and gave medals while scores of heroes in the A. E. F. have not been rewarded, Gallivan claimed, adding that the Distinguished Service Medal is now known as the "Desk Service Medal."

The representative was bitter in his denunciation of Chief of Staff March, declaring that he has not "enough space between his belt and collar to display the medals received and yet did not hear a hostile shot throughout the entire war."

General Pershing was attacked as having given a medal to "every communist messenger boy."

"Scarcely a single member of the 'bushy headed troops' of Chau-mont and Paris failed to receive a personal glorification through the placing of a medal on his manly chest," said Gallivan.

"It is believed that practically every member of the general staff here in Washington has been awarded one of these medals, regardless of the character of service. The reading of the sum total of these citations to swivel chair officers who have left Washington would certainly impress one with the fact that the war was fought with red ink at mahogany desks near the Washington monument rather than the Argonne or St. Michel. If a single one of these was passed over he must feel like a gray horse in a barnyard of mules."

"Surely the lounge lizard of the second army of the Potomac have no quarrel with their comrades, the lobby lancers of the capitol."

STATE TO FIX GAS QUALITY AFTER TESTS

An order issued today by the State Railroad Commission on its own motion is the first step in an investigation by the commission into the production, transmission, distribution and use of gas which will be state-wide in its scope. The main object of the investigation is to "give the gas consumer the greatest amount of useful heat at the least cost."

The investigation will begin at the headquarters of the commission in the Flood building, February 15.

At the initial session there will be present representatives of the six largest companies in the state as follows:

Pacific Gas and Electric Company, Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, Southern California Gas Company, Southern Counties Gas Company, San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric Company, Western States Gas and Electric Company.

As a result of the investigation the commission will arrive at a standard of gas expected to prove satisfactory from the standpoint of heat, "pressure and physical characteristics."

A feature of the investigation will be the effort of the commission to determine the efficiency of gases of various heating values in the appliances used by the ordinary household consumer.

Under a general order issued by the commission last September the commission fixed upon 570 (British thermal units) per cubic foot as a fair average heating value to be maintained by all companies distributing artificial gas. It is to determine whether this standard is to be maintained, raised or lowered that the investigation is being made by the commission. Tests will be made at different plants throughout the state where gas is manufactured.

Military Rites Will Govern at Officer's Burial

LIEUT. COL. R. C. DEWEY.

Col. Rupert Carthalo Dewey's Funeral Services Set for Friday

Military services for Lieutenant-Colonel Rupert Carthalo Dewey, assistant quartermaster in charge of the United States Marine Corps depot in San Francisco, will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the residence of his wife, Mrs. Dewey, at 1400 Broadway.

Lieutenant-Colonel Dewey died last evening of pneumonia at his home, 1435 Illinois avenue, Oakland. His widow and two daughters, who had not been apprised of his death today, are seriously ill. Mrs. Dewey and the elder daughter, Miss Josephine Dewey, are suffering with pneumonia and the case of the latter is so serious that but slight hope is held for recovery. Miss Priscilla Dewey, aged 11, is ill with measles.

Lieutenant-Colonel Dewey was born in Minnesota, December 7, 1870. He was a graduate of the University of Minnesota and had seen service in the Spanish-American war and in the Philippines. It was as a first lieutenant in the Thirtieth Minnesota infantry, volunteers, that he was first mustered into service July 18, 1898, and it was in December of the same year that he was promoted to a captain. With his company he was mustered out in March, 1899.

He entered the marine corps in 1900 and since then has served continuously in Guam and at Cavite, before coming to San Francisco to take charge of the quartermaster's depot.

Lieutenant-Colonel Dewey possessed the admiration and love of all the men who served under him. An expression of this feeling was demonstrated at a recent birthday when he was fairly overwhelmed by the gifts from his men. To an equal degree he held the respect of his fellow officers.

CHRISTMAS SPREE BRINGS DIVORCE

A youthful romance which began at Cordova with the marriage of Mrs. Ruth Jones when she was 15 years of age, to Joseph F. Jones, terminated in the divorce court today with the filing of a complaint by the young wife, which recites numerous marital troubles which began soon after marriage.

Almost immediately after their wedding on April 16, 1908, the wife says, her husband evidenced a jealous and quarrelsome nature and falsely accused her of showing attention to other men, and called her names.

They came to Oakland in October, 1917, the complaint recites, and since that time her husband has continued his course of conduct. On Christmas eve, 1917, her husband went to the San Francisco, says Mrs. Jones, returning home intoxicated at 2 o'clock in the morning and made life miserable for her and the children on Christmas day by abusing her. Last Christmas day he repeated the performance, she says, and threatened to throw her out of a second-story window.

Enforce Seamen's Act, Union Delegates Urge

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Delegates to the International Seamen's union at its annual convention here today are urging enforcement of the seamen's act which requires 75 per cent of crews of United States vessels to speak the English language. More than $60,000 has been spent by the union in defending the act, President Andrew Furuseth said.

A resolution was adopted demanding free speech and scoring alleged practices of courts that obstruct labor's aims.

of one member of the troop of guards, killed in the fighting, while several are missing.

The big oak paneled door, which gives access to the west wing of the reichstag building, was smashed during the attempted rush. It was the prompt resistance of the public security troops on guard that prevented ingress, which would have resulted in the invasion of the chamber by the mob. Through this door a large caliber bullet fired from the ranks of the mob found its way and also passed through a second door into the lobby, crowded with members.

Provocation for firing upon the crowd was furnished by its attempt to storm the west entrance of the building. A score of men attacked several guards and wrenched their rifles away just as soldiers rushed up. General firing then began.

When the mob ran into the street fronting the south side of the edifice soldiers stationed there immediately opened a fusillade, which caused wounded civilians were carried into the reichstag building, a dozen others were transferred to the guardhouse near the Brandenburg gate and a number were carried off by members of the sanitary corps.

The reichstag, temporarily adjourned amid great confusion. President Ebert was obliged to leave the chair. He was unable to control the situation. Members of various parties engaged in violent demonstrations, and members of the cabinet left the chamber.

When the troops dispersed the crowd they extended their cordon in the direction of Unter den Linden, where throngs filled the street. An officer who chanced along was severely beaten by the crowd.

After a short recess the House visibly quieted down and President Ebert, rising from his seat, told the deputies the day's casualties had reached a total which would occasion profound regret and that further deliberations under the circumstances hardly could be expected to continue with the necessary calm. He suggested an adjournment until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The deputies received the announcement standing and then left the chamber.

Independent Socialist leaders plan to continue demonstrations whenever the industrial council bill is up for debate and it is expected the climax will be reached Thursday, which is the anniversary of the deaths of Dr. Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg, radical leaders, who were slain while being led to Moabit prison.

BUYS $7,000,000 WORTH OF AUTOS

E. Leonard Peacock, president of the Peacock Automobile distributing organizations of Oakland and San Francisco, returned to Oakland this morning after a four weeks' business trip to the Chandler and Cleveland factories and the New York automobile show.

Peacock's return to Oakland at this time was prompted in a large measure by his desire to be present at the big automobile show which is to be staged in the Civic Auditorium beginning next Monday night. But tucked away in his pockets were two huge contracts for cars for this year which, in valuation, approximate more than $7,000,000, the largest contracts for cars ever signed by the Peacock organizations.

Shipments of cars of both lines to Northern California points have already started in accordance with the two contracts, said Peacock this morning, and will continue on an increasing scale throughout the first half of the present year.

Speaking of the conditions as Peacock found them at the factory Peacock said:

"More than 35,000 Chandler cars and a like number of Cleveland cars will be turned out by the two factories this year. It is the biggest production program ever launched by automobile factories building cars in the price fields of these two lines. Both factories have made tremendous preparations to carry out their respective programs and the quantity of material, besides finished parts they have on hand, is amazing. Material is stored even on the roofs of the factories and in temporary structures scattered about the factory plants. Both factories are seething with activity, outdoing and surpassing all previous records in every department."

"Just what may be expected of the two factories this year, particularly the Chandler, may be anticipated by the fact that last year the Chandler production program called for 12,000 cars. By the end of the year the company built and shipped an even 18,000 cars."

"Our contract for Chandler cars for 1920 is the largest individual contract that was signed by any Chandler distributor. For a while we have experienced a shortage in cars, but as we are still considerably behind in deliveries which date back into last year, but we shall catch up within a few weeks after which we shall be in the first time in the history of the organization, be in a position to make immediate deliveries."

"In a few months the Cleveland car has established itself on such a scale that the Cleveland factory is far behind in deliveries, but this condition will be overcome within a few months. From every standpoint the present year will be the biggest one in volume of sales of cars that has ever featured the automotive industry. The Chandler car will be sold out prominently, with the Cleveland, 'the little sister of the Chandler,' a close second."

Woman Escapes Jury

An automobile ride with Attorney W. H. L. Hynes resulted in Mrs. Wilemina Hall being disqualified for jury service in a damage suit being tried before Judge Joseph Kolord today.

Yesterday Mrs. Hall was about to go home when she saw Hynes, who lives in her neighborhood, ready to leave the courthouse in his automobile. She asked for a lift and with his unfeeling courtesy to the fair sex Hynes agreed, but warned Mrs. Hall that might result in her being disqualified. Mrs. Hall preferred the ride to the jury service, however, and was taken home. The warning given by Hynes was justified when opposing counsel questioned Mrs. Hall about the occurrence and she was excused for cause.

AT WHAT AGE ARE WOMEN MOST INTERESTING When She's Interesting Is Playwright's Opinion

By JANE DIXON

"When is a woman most interesting? The question answers itself. A woman is most interesting when she is interesting. Each age has its own peculiar interest. Any time between the rising and the setting sun—that is woman."—J. HARTLEY MANNERS.

Would you not say the man who created a fascinating somebody like "Pepe" out of the fabric of his imagination ought to know much of the charm of woman?

"Pepe" has been loved as no other woman of modern fiction. Folk from the more mundane stage or real life have laughed at her, wept with her and left with a fragrant memory of her having a round in their hearts.

Like the scent of old lavender in grandmother's bridal chest. "Behold, then, the parent of 'Pepe'—paternal parent—Mr. J. Hartley Manners.

Mr. Manners is a playwright. He is a builder of romance. I caught Mr. Manners at the Criterion theater, New York City, where his latest play "One Night in Rome" is being staged. It is a brilliant interpretation of that delightful comedienne, Miss Laurette Taylor.

The playwright received me in the green room adjoining Miss Taylor's dressing room.

Hold! No lifting of eyebrows, please. The merry little star with the nose of pathos in her voice is in private life a happy and devoted wife, Mrs. J. Hartley Manners by name. The Taylor-Manners combination is for stage purposes only. It is for home use as well.

ON HIS GUARD

"My word," exclaimed Mr. Manners, when I explained what I had come to ask. "When are women most interesting? That is rather an awkward question, isn't it? One scarcely would dare risk answering it, would he—with his wife in the next room?"

"Now, Hartley," came a laughing voice from behind the dressing room door, "you know you are not competent to answer. How could you when you've had only one wife?"

"You see," agreed the accused, "Mrs. Manners is right. I am a poor judge, a very poor judge."

"But surely," I insisted, "you might mention some one age when woman is more attractive than another."

"Yes, I might but—" "Poor Hartley"—from the other side of the door—it took him ten years to get his wife into the twenties and now he has her in he can't get her out again."

"There you see," I murmured to the husband. "A chap would no more dare tell his wife's age than you have no idea of what a hideous lot of trouble such a confidence might cause him. And if he is going to mention the most interesting age of a woman he is bound to pay that compliment to his wife, isn't he? So, in a way, he'd be giving the whole secret away. It would never do."

Things did look a bit complicated for husband and wife. I could not help but wonder how he was going to make any sort of a graceful detour. He did not try. He simply plunged.

"I know what I will do," he declared. "I shall say exactly what I think of the subject."

Strict silence on the other side of the door, what might best be termed a "listening" silence.

YOUTH SCORES—ALMOST.

The most interesting age is from fifteen to eighteen years, when the first call of youth comes with all its imaginings.

"There is nothing so pure, so high, so free from the taint of selfishness of the world as the dreams of a young girl. Castles in Spain are lovely places in which to live, with rose vines trailing to their windows and the soft thrum of music echoing through their shining halls."

"Youth does not ask if the roses must fade, if the sound of the music will be hushed. Youth believes. Imagination bridges over every gap of doubt, colors every canvas with gayety, lines every cloud with silver."

An enviable age, the age of youth. The silence on the other side of the door continued. So did Mr. Hartley Manners, playwright.

"The most interesting age of woman is from eighteen to twenty—years. Men are attracted to this time and the world takes on a different tinge."

"In birdland we might call this age the mating age. Not every girl finds her mate during those three years. Men are attracted to this time and the world takes on a different tinge."

Romance grips her. The love affairs of her friends are fascinating chapters in the book of life. Cupid is her patron saint, a boy and arrow her talisman. A magic age.

Still silence beyond the door. But Mr. J. Hartley Manners was not still. He had started, and he meant to finish, despite discouraging silences.

"The most interesting age of woman is when the realization of perfect womanhood crystallizes in the wife and mother."

"There is no one so biased on the subject of marriage as to deny that wifehood adds immeasurably to the sum total of perfect womanhood. Marriage is a part of the woman's life. It is a part of her life that humanity may continue, onward and upward. A world without wives would be a decadent, doomed world. I shouldn't care for it."

MOTHERHOOD, OF COURSE.

"Mothers! No man will deny their blessed interest. It is as a mother the woman reaches the very pinnacle of her womanhood. It is now she has fulfilled her mission as a woman. She has paid her debt to man and God. She has made the supreme sacrifice, given the supreme gift. Admirable age, the age of wife and mother."

I thought I heard a rustling on the other side of the door, but I could not be sure. Mr. J. Hartley Manners did not seem to notice. He was immersed in the subject.

"Above all a woman is most interesting when, as a complete woman, she wields the full power of effort and influence and shares in the destiny not only of her family but of her country."

There was no mistaking the rustle now. It grew into a muffled applause. Apparently the Taylor half of the combination approved of the Manners handling of the topic.

"I never realize the value of a good woman so much as when I see her in the midst of her family, using her mature mother influence to secure for her family the greatest possible amount of success and happiness," continued the speaker. I might say never so much with but one exception—and that is when she has renounced even her hunger for motherhood and placed on the altar of country her very heart's blood—her husband, father, brother, sweetheart and last and greatest of all, her sons. A magnificent age, the age of complete womanhood."

"But, Hartley," from the other side of the door, "you've named three distinct ages and you've said each one was the most interesting."

HEARD FOR ALL AGES.

Mr. Manners smiled. His dark eyes danced a whimsical delight. His boyish face was mellowed by laugh furrows. He ran his hand over his dark hair to smooth out the curl that had curiously crept in and there was triumph in his voice, as of a man who has saved a delicate situation and disposed of it creditably.

"Exactly," he retorted. "I've named four ages, and every one of them is the most interesting. What I mean is interest can never be a question of age."

"I can spend hours playing with a little girl, a child of twelve, and enjoy every moment of it, providing she is an interesting child. On the other hand, I like nothing more than to have an entire afternoon in which to chat with a grandmother, providing she is an interesting grandmother. The most beautiful creature on earth, who was neither interested nor interesting, would bore me to death in five minutes. The woman who desires to be interesting should study herself. She should discover her most effective ways of arousing genuine interest. It is her duty to be a highly profitable study. 'Watch me!'"

"Why Hartley," a face with wide gray eyes and hair inclined to tawny appeared at the narrow crevice in the doorway. "I never suspected you thought so seriously on this subject."

Playwright Manners smiled like a bashful boy at a kissing party. "Neither did I," he said.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Arrest of Dr. Charles McCarthy on a charge of perjury is the latest in his trouble with his former wife, Mrs. Maurella Ann Thompson McCarthy.

The prominent physician and club man was taken into custody on Mrs. McCarthy's complaint that he had sworn to a false affidavit regarding his financial condition when settlement with his family was before the court.

Dr. McCarthy had told the court he was penniless, according to the charge, and unable to practice medicine, but in another affidavit, made last February before Edwin C. Bath, notary public, it is alleged "he claims to have a regular office practice."

Mrs. McCarthy said that she took the step for the sake of their 14-year-old son, Francis Cameron McCarthy.

NEW POSITIONS STIR COUNCILMEN

Discussion between the City Council and the Civil Service Board over the question of jurisdiction over salaries and promotions of municipal employees, took a new angle at the session of the council yesterday.

A recommendation by the Civil Service Board, providing for one salary increase and the creation of three positions, drew another volley of protests and criticism from the majority council members, who have waged a campaign against the Civil Service Board during the past few weeks.

The recommendation covered an increase in salary from $130 to $140 a month for Charles Gross, senior clerk in the office of City Auditor Harry G. Williams, the creation of the position of junior stenographer in the Department of Public Health and Safety, to be detailed to assist Chief Elliott Whitehead in the operation of the new two-plant system, and the creation in the Department of Streets of the new positions of auto electrician and head machinist at salary of $190 a month, together with the abolition of one position of machinist in the same department.

Objection to the recommendation was made by Commissioner Edwards, who has been the leader in the fight of the council majority against the Civil Service Board, and Commissioner Soderberg, with the result that the recommendation was filed without action.

Settlement Ordered In Alexander Estate

Partial distribution of the $1,000,000 estate of the late Mrs. Martha E. Alexander, of Piedmont, mother of Wallace M. Alexander, sugar baron, was ordered by Judge L. S. Church today in the payment of the bequest to Miss Margaret E. Cooke of Honolulu of 120 shares of stock in the Hawaiian Fertilizer company. Wallace Alexander testified that the stock is worth about $1300.

It was stated that all of the bequests except this one and those to the residuary legatees have been paid. The estate is not finally distributed at this time, it was declared, because of conferences with the authorities as to whether inheritance tax should be paid on property transferred before Mrs. Alexander's death.

The will left legacies of from $250 to $5000 to more than thirty persons, amounting to $60,000; about $45,000 to various churches and charities. The balance was divided equally between four children, Juliette, Annie M. and Wallace M. Alexander and Mrs. Martha A. Waterhouse.

FIRE SCENES ON "TRIBUNE" T. AND D. FILM

Two events of extraordinary interest to Eastbay city folks are holding attention on the Tribune-T. and D. News Weekly at the T. and D. theater this week.

One scene shows the schooner Tamalpais afoul of the Webster-street bridge, an accident which delayed train traffic between Oakland and Alameda for three days and severely damaged the bridge.

Starting in its realism are the scenes which show the recent Alameda fire. The Tribune-T. and D. cameraman reached the scene of the fire a few minutes after the alarm had been sounded and not only shot scenes of the fire in its full fury but the falling buildings as well.

Other interesting scenes are on the Tribune-T. and D. News Weekly this week.

STEPS TAKEN TO IMPROVE CITY STREETS

First steps toward outlining a constructive program of street improvement to be put into effect during the year were taken at a conference of members of the City Council with Commissioner of Streets Baccus.

The conference was asked for by Baccus in a communication filed with the Council several days ago in which he asked for co-operation in the street program contemplated. Action on Baccus' communication was postponed until next Monday, and the Council members will make a tour of the downtown business section to investigate the necessity for street work asked for by Baccus.

PERMANENT PAVING.
A tentative agreement was reached for the commencement of work for the permanent paving of Madison and Jackson streets, between Seventh and Tenth streets, Alice street, between Seventh and First streets, and all cross streets, between Third and Tenth streets and Jefferson and Clay streets.

This first step in the program was decided upon, provided the inspection trip shows the need for the work, when Baccus suggested the streets involved as those most needing improvement, in the face of the lack of desire on the part of the other Council members to undertake the entire program at this time. If approval of the initial portion of the program is given following the inspection work will be started at once.

FOR STREET OPENINGS.
Action was taken by the Council on the elaborate program of street openings, widening and extensions suggested by the Downtown Property Owners Association and presented to the Council by Baccus for action.

The program was referred to City Attorney Hagun to prepare a resolution setting forth the duties of a committee of five citizens to be named by the Council to go over the program and report.

Three members of the committee, A. R. Dege, F. B. Madden and William Knowles, were named by the Council, and the other two will be named soon.

WORKER SHOT AT DOOR OF HOME

Mystery shrouds the shooting last night of John Martin, a former shipyard worker, who lives at 1351 Sixth avenue.

According to the report given to the police this morning, accompanied by evidence in the shape of a 38 calibre bullet which dug out of the door of his room after it had struck a nest wound in his leg, the shot was fired from the opposite sidewalk as Martin and his wife were about to enter their home last night.

In spite of the wound in his leg, Martin rushed across the street in the effort to run down the would-be assassin, but he was unable to find the man who fired the shot. Martin states that he has no enemies that would attempt to take his life, although he admits that he had a heated argument last night in a pool room over the question of the shipyard strike. The police are making a close investigation of the shooting.

Barleycorn Figures at Embezzlement Trial

The "dry" state of the country figured conspicuously in the trial of Victor P. Loveland charged with embezzling a diamond ring worth $125, before Superior Judge E. C. Robinson today. Mrs. Hazel Hodgman, complaining witness, charges that Loveland borrowed the ring to "make a flash" among his friends and then pawned it. The evidence involves several drinking bouts.

In questioning the jurors Attorney Louis Glickman, for the defense, tested their attitude to persons who drink. Are you prejudiced against a man who takes an intoxicating drink?" he asked the first man.

"No," was the reply. "I'm envious." Deputy District Attorney Frank Shay, for the prosecution, opined that his opponent's client had little to fear on the liquor score.

U.S. GUARANTEE URGED TO BACK LEAGUE'S LOAN

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Sir George Paish, British financial expert, speaking last night before the council of foreign relations, said that Europe would require a loan of $20,000,000,000 for its financial rehabilitation. He proposed that the League of Nations float the loan through a bond issue underwritten by the United States, the loan to cover a period of from five to ten years.

DEMOCRAT WOMEN OF EASTBAY MEET

Plans to extend the hospitality of the Eastbay region to the visiting women at the Democratic national convention in San Francisco in June were made yesterday by the Women's Democratic Club of Alameda county at a meeting at the Hotel Oakland.

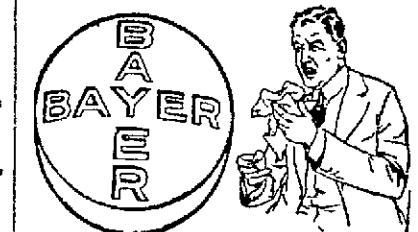

Cooperation of all women's organizations in the Eastbay section in seeing that the visitors are shown Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda will be asked by the club, of which Mrs. Carrie Hoyt of Berkeley is president. A "convention" luncheon planned as a non-partisan gathering, has been called for Monday, January 26, at the Hotel Oakland, when further plans will be discussed.

"We want to make this entertaining, entirely non-partisan in nature," declares Mrs. Hoyt. "The principal aim in our minds is to see that the visiting women are given ample opportunity to see the Eastbay section. To that end we desire the cooperation of all women's organizations in extending hospitality to the visitors."

Resolutions for the March 26 meeting were passed by the club. Mrs. W. H. Kelley of Dover street, Oakland, former president of the senate and candidate for the Liberals was elected president of the republic yesterday.

CITY WILL AWARD BADGE FOR VALOR

Deeds of valor and meritorious conduct on the part of policemen and firemen are to receive greater recognition in the future under a new policy adopted for the new year by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. F. Morse.

The plan includes the establishment of a regular system of recognition through favorable mention or a distinguished service stripe or badge, similar to the system in use in the military service, the reward to be based upon the character of the service performed.

"I feel that in the past we have been too ready to criticize the men in the fire and police service for a citation for bravery in action."

faults and not ready enough to commend them for valor," said Commissioner Morse in announcing the plans for the new system. "Hereafter I intend to see that meritorious service is fully recognized by this department in some form or other."

The system under contemplation may effect the efficiency markings of the men in securing them better markings for service rendered. This angle of the plan is being taken up with the Civil Service Board by Commissioner Morse.

Reid is the only one of the ten indicted by the grand jury who is still at liberty. Set today for trial, the first charge of criminal syndicalism against John G. Weiler which grew out of his alleged sending of bomb notes to Captain of Detectives Walter J. Petersen, was today continued by Judge James G. Quinn until February 17 at the request of the defendant.

Sickness Cure or Sickness Prevention

When Pasteur proved the relation of germs to infectious disease, he marked a big advance in that development of medical science which reigns today—the Idea of Sickness Prevention.

As a result, many plagues and epidemics that were the bane of former ages no longer terrify the world, and science has now developed an effective agent against the condition which is the first cause of over 90% of all human disease—constipation.

That effective agent is Nujol.

Nujol by relieving constipation prevents the absorption of poisons which otherwise would be taken into the blood and so undermine the whole system.

Leading medical authorities agree that pills, salts, castor oil, etc., simply force and weaken the system. But Nujol is entirely different.

Nujol prevents constipation by softening the food waste and encouraging the intestinal muscles to act naturally. Nujol helps nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

For valuable health booklet—"Thirty Feet of Danger"—free, write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, N. Y.

Warning: Nujol is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark as here shown. Beware of imitations designed to be "the same as Nujol." You may suffer from imitations.

TWO WOMEN ARE INJURED BY AUTOISTS

Two more automobile accidents occurred in the Oakland streets last night in which two women were seriously injured. Hospital authorities stated this morning that they would recover.

The names of the two injured women follow:
Mrs. C. E. Valeria, 117 Brockhurst avenue.
Alice J. Belcher, 1263 Fifty-second avenue.

Mrs. Valeria was struck by an automobile driven by E. O. Austin, 201 Franklin street, as she was about to board a street car at Brockhurst and Grove streets. She states that she had just stepped out from the curb to flag the car when the machine hit her and knocked her to the pavement. She sustained serious bruises and lacerations.

Austin rushed her to the Emergency Hospital, where she received treatment. Mrs. Valeria announced this morning that she intended to bring suit against Austin for damages.

Alice J. Belcher was struck by a car driven by Robert D. Jackson, 1088 Seventy-first avenue. She was taken to the Emergency Hospital in his machine from Fifty-first avenue and East Fourteenth street, where the accident occurred. She was badly cut about the head and suffered from numerous contusions.

AGED MAN RUN DOWN. BERKELEY, Jan. 14.—Unable to see an approaching automobile in the fog, Nicholas Boyd, 52 years old, residing at 2823 Garber street, was run down last evening at College avenue and Garber street by a machine driven by John J. Miller, 2738 Prince street.

Boyd was taken to Alta Bates Sanitarium by Miller, where his injuries were found to be confined to a laceration of the head. He was later removed to his home.
Five persons in an automobile driven by E. E. Jeffrey, 368 Moss avenue, Oakland, escaped injury last evening at Shattuck avenue and Kittredge street after the car had been driven into a rut directly in front of an approaching Key Route train. George Stringfellow, 2914 Adeline street, Berkeley, sought to flag the train by running 150 feet up the track waving a red lantern, but the motorman was unable to stop in time. The automobile was almost completely wrecked, the passengers escaping injury by jumping from the car before it was struck by the train. Jeffrey claims the heavy fog shut off his vision of repair work being done on the Key Route tracks and that he drove into a rut before he could swerve his machine. In the car besides Jeffrey and Stringfellow were Mrs. Jeffrey and Mrs. Stringfellow and Mrs. Jeffrey and Mrs. Stringfellow and Mrs. Jeffrey and Mrs. Stringfellow.

Berkeley Council Split in Fight and Terms 'Economy' And 'Politics' Are Banded

BERKELEY, Jan. 14.—What Councilman Charles D. Heywood terms as "politics" and Councilman George Schmidt defines as "economy," is likely to split the council of Berkeley in one of the bitterest fights which has arisen in that body.

Upon Mayor Louis Bartlett rests the responsibility of the deciding vote, in either prolonging a controversy or allowing matters to proceed as they are. A resolution seeking to consolidate the city department's corporation yard, now under the control of Councilman Heywood as commissioner of public health and safety, with that of the street department's yard, controlled by Councilman Schmidt, is the cause of the friction.

The council is divided two and two on the issue. E. T. Harms and Heywood against, and Carl Bartlett and Schmidt for the consolidation. An initial victory for the opposing faction of the council was won yesterday when Mayor Bartlett refused to vote for the resolution "for the present," demanding further time in which to hear Heywood's side of the story. Schmidt and Bartlett claim the mayor's vote and declare that they will press the matter to an issue.

SAVING POINTED OUT. That the sum of $571.60 per month can be saved the city by the consolidation is the contention of Councilman Schmidt in a lengthy statement which he submitted at yesterday's council meeting. He says there is not sufficient work to keep two crews of mechanics busy, and points out that 40 per cent of the time of the men is now wasted. To this Heywood replies that as commissioner of public health and safety he is responsible for the efficiency of the fire department, and that the repair of fire apparatus cannot be made in a haphazard way. "Under the city charter one commissioner cannot interfere with the work of another," declares Heywood.

The proposed consolidation is nothing more or less than an effort to get back into operation the old political machine which was crushed ten years ago by the voters of Berkeley. Since that time the police and fire departments have been absolutely free of politics. To repeat efforts have been made to get the machine back into power, and now after six months of quiet since the last election, the first steps are being taken in an effort to again build up this political band wagon.

BOARD POSTPONES POLICE APPEALS

Hearing of the appeals of the three patrolmen recently dismissed from the Police Department by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. F. Morse following the personally conducted raid on alleged gambling houses in West Oakland by the Commissioner, was postponed last night by the Civil Service Board, and the cases will be taken up on Tuesday evening, January 27.

The postponement was made under mutual agreement between the two sides in the case, the Board desiring a full membership before the appeals are heard. The three patrolmen involved are J. J. O'Connell, J. J. Hayes and Thomas Merrick.

At the request of assistant inspectors, the Board last night postponed the examination for inspector in the Police Department, which was scheduled for January 23, for two weeks, and the examination will be held Friday, February 6. The examination for captain will be held Friday.

The temporary appointments of Arthur H. Peterson, architectural draftsman in the Department of Public Works; J. J. McCoy, draftsman in the City Engineer's office; Margaret Berry, landlady, and C. H. Bell and L. J. Franks, substitute firemen, were approved last night and a continuation of the leave of absence granted to Assistant City Engineer F. M. Hewson, who is on sick leave.

In the face of the continued opposition of members of the City Council, further recommendations were made by the Board for salary increases, these suggested last night being for increases of from $120 to $140 a month, on the regular sliding scale, for D. W. Baker, W. J. Campbell and W. H. Brunk, assistant meat inspectors.

A report was filed with the Board last night of the activities of the Civil Service Department staff for the past calendar year, showing fifty-one examinations held and 1948 applications filed during the year. The cost of operating the department for the past six months was $4880.

SUICIDE OF MAN LAID TO ILLNESS

He has been sick in the head for two years, Reba Frankel, a comely young Russian woman, explains the acts of her husband, Israel Frankel, which yesterday culminated in his suicide at their home, 332 Grove street, and for a time threatened to end her life. A gleam of love for the two young children, a girl of eight and a boy of nineteen months, and the wife's plea for mercy that she might be spared to care for them was all that stood between her and death.

Hopes to secure an insurance policy of $1000 upon which to borrow money prompted Frankel to visit his wife in the Grove street home yesterday. When Mrs. Frankel refused to surrender the security her husband dashed at her, flourishing a pistol and shouting:

"I will kill you, then I will kill myself!"

Impassioned pleas for the children touched the father's heart. He turned the pistol upon himself, and fell dead at her feet.

"You can have it all," were his last words.
Frankel has been ill for the past two years. Brooding over unemployment has unsettled his mind. Quarrels between the couple have been frequent and several months ago they separated. It is said Mrs. Frankel and her two young children are being cared for today by her sister at 121 Seventh street. The nearest neighbors to the Frankel home were about when the tragedy occurred and there were no witnesses.

CLUB NIGHT POSTPONED. Because of the winter party which is to be held tomorrow night in St. Elizabeth's parish in East Oakland, there will be no club night. The monthly parties, planned by the executive committee, are of interest to the whist party will be given in St. Joseph's Socially gymnasium.

NO POLICY.

"In the present critical state of Far Eastern relations, the prestige of the United States in China is at stake. The Japanese ambitions to achieve the hegemony of the Pacific have become so obvious to all unbiased observers in the past few months that the United States cannot plead lack of knowledge of Japan's designs; yet under the influence of her present militaristic government, Japan's successful assertion of the moral leadership in the Far East would be fraught with danger for western civilization, let alone the vital interests of America in the Pacific. . . . Against a clear-cut Japanese policy we have for a variety of reasons which need not be enumerated opposed only a negative attitude lacking in comprehensiveness and vigor when confronted by the fact of Japan's undermining of our interests."

The above is from a recent public statement by Dr. Jeremiah W. Jenks, research professor of government and public administration in New York University and an authority on Far Eastern affairs. It is quoted because it confirms the statements which have frequently appeared in these columns of THE TRIBUNE not only during the last few months but during the last few years.

Furthermore, it presents in condensed form the true situation in China and Japan and the evil effects certain to follow the failure of the government to formulate and adhere to a positive foreign policy. With the first inauguration of President Wilson and the placing of Mr. William J. Bryan in charge of the Department of State this country ceased to have a foreign policy. The government abandoned American interests abroad and assumed toward foreign affairs an attitude of negation. The foreign policy with reference to the Far East, which had been the result of long and tedious years of compromise and earnest effort, was incontinently wrecked out of a foolish deference to Mr. Bryan's illusion that two great oceans isolated the United States and to his quest for glory through the negotiation of arbitration treaties.

Strictly speaking we have had no foreign policy since shortly before Mr. Bryan deserted the cabinet for the Chauchatqua tent and the congenial companionship of clowns. We went to war in Europe, but then only in response to necessity, reluctantly and unprepared. Had a strong, positive foreign policy been in existence earlier, one by which the resolution and the temper of the United States could have been known, the war might have been avoidable.

As to the Far East, the administration has continued to drift, blindly and along the currents free of resistance and obstruction. The State Department has permitted itself to be tricked by Viscount Ishii and America abandoned China at the Paris peace conference. Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, one of the ablest representatives this country ever had in the Orient, has resigned because the acts of Washington were a repudiation of his efforts to promote the moral position of his country in Asia. Dr. Charles D. Tenney, an able official and a tried friend of China, is charge d'affaires at Peking, but the post of minister is unfilled in these important days.

Once again the country is justified in acquiring of the government, when shall we have a foreign policy and particularly a Far Eastern policy?

SLAUGHTER OF BIRDS.

That the encroachment of civilization is making the abode of birds and wild fowl so restricted as to threaten many species with extinction and the usefulness of bird plumage for human adornment are two facts which cannot be disputed. It is well that civilization should penetrate and eliminate as many wild places of the earth as possible. Birds and other wild life must yield to the approach of man intent upon a place for his home or a field from which he may extract necessities and comforts of life. But the ruthless hunting down of birds to obtain plumes and wings to gratify the primitive conceits of men and women might be stopped as an amelioration of the inevitable.

Gross and savage slaughter has been committed in gratification of the demand for the brilliancy of the feathered inhabitants. When the cause of the disappearance of the black for the moultedness of past and present generations.

About 900 miles beyond Honolulu is a group of small islands, several of them barely rising above the water and the largest of them not over two square miles in area. These islands are the homes of several hundred thousands of birds, among which are at least six species not found anywhere else in the world. One day in 1909 the crew of the cutter Thetis found an old shed piled full of albatross wings. A search revealed the fact that twenty-three plume hunters had landed on the islands and killed at least 300,000 birds. The men were arrested, taken to Honolulu, tried and punished. Since then the Biological Survey which has direct charge of the bird reservations, has been more alert and no repetition of the outrage has been reported. But fishermen are now going to these islands and a landing might be made at any time and a fresh slaughter committed.

One of the bird species that makes this south sea island group its nesting place, the Laysan teal, was represented in 1911 by only six specimens. It has since been increased until there are now thirty-five members of the family. Other rare species that nest in these islands are the red-tailed tropic bird, black-footed albatross and the gray-backed tern. A few marauders might effect their extermination any day.

This is only an instance of the precarious position of bird life in civilized countries or, wherever so-called civilized man commits his depredations. Most of the species of birds and wing-fowl that have disappeared or are in danger of extinction, served a useful part in human affairs. Though the rice and grain growers may complain a little at the wild ducks and geese, all laws and regulations for the preservation of wild fowl and birds should be rigorously enforced.

THE TRACTION WAGE AWARD.

The arbitrators of the issues between the Key Route and Oakland Traction Company and their employees have rendered their award, reached by unanimous agreement. It gives the platform men an increase of 12 1/2 percent in wages, and rejects the demand for an eight hour day and the demand for a guaranteed minimum pay of $130 a month for "trippers" or men who work only during the two rush periods of week-day traffic.

Translated into terms of money, the 12 1/2 percent increase means an advance from the present basic pay of 48 cents an hour to 54 cents for the traction employees and 56 cents for the Key System employees. For the ten-hour day this is a wage of $5.40 per day for the traction company platform workers and $5.60 for the Key System. Allowing for probable lost time, the arbitrators estimated that this will be equivalent to an annual compensation of $1600 a year, which they find is necessary to the workman to support himself and family and give his children "reasonable opportunities for education and advancement."

Whether or not this award will be pleasing to either side in the controversy, it emphasizes some interesting principles which the arbitrators believe should govern relations between public utilities and employees. It is held for instance that it is incumbent upon the company to pay a living wage to its workers, regardless of whether it is possible to secure cheaper labor elsewhere, that the cost of such a wage is a prior charge upon the business. And inasmuch as the company was found to be making no profits for division, the arbitrators declined to go beyond the point of a "living wage."

For the same reason the demand for an eight-hour day is denied. While declaring adherence in principle to the eight-hour day, the arbitrators state that the shorter day would impose additional expense upon the utility which would mean immediate bankruptcy. That, it is pointed out, would be an injury to the company, the employees and the public. But it is decided in effect that the company must pay a living wage for a ten-hour day, regardless of the financial consequences. The new wage scale has been compared to the increase in the cost of living and the arbitrators submit it as adequate.

The date from which the award shall be effective signifies a penalty for the workers breaking their agreement to accept arbitration and in going out on strike. The arbitrators observe that it would have been the logical act under normal conditions to date the award from October 1, 1919, the date upon which a new agreement was possible by the processes set down in an existing contract.

"But the circumstances are not normal," says the award. "The men went out on strike in violation of their contract and the rules of their organization and in the face of an offer by the company to arbitrate. It caused the company a loss of about $350,000, very seriously inconvenienced the public, impaired the theretofore friendly relations between the men and the company, injured the confidence in the willingness of labor unions to live up to their contracts, and was a serious blow to the principle of collective bargaining. The matter is too serious to be passed by. We have, therefore, determined that our award shall be effective only as of January 1, 1920."

From a special Washington despatch to the New York Sun it is learned that the 1920 budget of the prohibitionists calls for the expenditure of nearly $28,000,000. Of this vast sum $15,360,000 is to be spent in the United States to increase and enforce the aridity. In Latin-America and the West Indies, $6,590,000 is to be available. In the Eastern Hemisphere, Scotland and Japan being specially mentioned, $2,509,000 is to be spent. This is a pretty long "sack" for proselytizing and in the meantime Congress is urged to appropriate millions to feed the starving children of Austria, Hungary and Poland.

NOTES and COMMENT

The school joke is often involved. It presupposes a general understanding of its Pickwickian character. When a high school launched a "red" ticket at a student body election it appears to have been taken for granted that everybody would understand that it was indorsement of the Communist Labor party. Everybody did not so understand, there was trouble with the faculty and the joke seems to have been on the joke.

A new and unnamed prophet arises, who predicts that the storm wave that produced devastating floods in Europe are on their way. Their itinerary comprehends eastern Asia in February, and the Pacific Coast in March, with resultant high waters on the Sacramento, San Joaquin and their tributaries. Thus are we forewarned as to the things that are coming our way.

It is a great mystery why the price of potatoes keeps on ascending. The spud will grow in any soil, and almost any climate. The yield is greater to the acre, and at less cost, than any other food product. Until quite recent times it was considered the pabulum of the vegetables. Now, however, it is moving up among the aristocrats, though it is difficult to give it its credentials.

"Gentlemen seek uniform prices for meat." What do they mean—uniform prices? In the absence of further enlightenment it will be accepted that they mean making all prices uniform with the highest price. That has been the usual way.

One of the tangible results of the wood alcohol fatalities is shyness to test foods by the primitive method of taste. A Tulare judge declined to go further than an olfactory test in a case before him. Such test seemed to justify him in holding that the ingredients appeared to be lemon extract and hard cider. The prisoners being certainly drunk he let it go at that and passed sentence.

It may be so, as Professor Goodwin holds, that we will not be able to get at the truth of the war short of a hundred years, but we can make affidavit as to some of the effects already. That does not require such a long perspective.

The idea that former Ambassador Gerard has been injected into the presidential race to head of Bryan is not impressive. The Ambassador is of political stature equal to self-support, and Bryan is not to be headed off by anything short of the convention decision or the popular vote in November.

New Zealand makes a noise that carries a great weight. She has voted wet. That will cause her to be held in affectionate regard by many who may be unable to get closer to extensive continents.

Naturally the German object to measures providing punishment and attempt to evade the penalties imposed on account of their four years of running amuck. It was not expected that they would endorse such aftermath. But it is important that they be required to observe it.

A despatch attributes this expression of the British prime minister: "We are out to establish the principle that emperors cannot make criminal wars and get off whole-skinned. Had this principle been established this war would not have occurred. For Wilhelm has proved himself an arrant coward by desertion of his country army and family when defeat threatened." The logic is not conclusive. Fear of consequences might have deterred Wilhelm had he believed defeat was likely or possible, but there is much evidence that such an idea was not entertained by him or the German people. The former Kaiser fully expected to have the world at his mercy instead of getting in a corner himself.

BERGER'S RE-ELECTION.—Berger's district is one principally populated by men of German birth or by those of German stock who have so kept alive their reverence for the Fatherland as to be more German than the Germans. Such a district does not regard the fact that Berger embarrassed the Government, with the feelings that control others.

But, nevertheless, it is not pleasant to think that there is a single Congressional district in the United States, even one with a pronounced pro-German population, willing to elect a man of Berger's known record. It shows the unwisdom of codding Bolshevism on the theory that its influence is negligible. There is no reason for alarm, but there is ample reason not to relax vigilance. Does this not mean classless at work—New York Tribune.

JOHN DOE: HIS LUCK.—Think on the state of one John Doe, who's always in a pickle. Perhaps it's over a million seeds, or maybe but a nickel. The only time that he escapes is when the badgered jury becomes so obfuscated by the lawyer's sound and fury. That no one need be shocked at all or think it strange or quaint if they seek it to defendant when they really mean the plaintiff.—Kansas City Star.

THAT MOON ROCKET WILL NEED A LITTLE BALLAST TO STEADY IT

A VOLCANIC CIRCUS

"After more than a month of unprecedented activity Mauna Loa is now 'make-dead,' writes Mrs. Shirley Foster Allen, in a communication to the National Geographic Society.

"It seems as if Hawaii, though small, must have just such attention and so every so often explosively projects herself into the arena of the world's happenings. Not content with her share in the 'Big Show' in Europe, she decided to stage a first-class side show all her own and the two volcanoes, Mauna Loa and Kilauea, have certainly done their best to make it the 'biggest show on earth'.

"Just a word about the geography of the place. The first place, so many people seem to think the word 'Honolulu' embraces all there is to the islands; and in the second place, the general conception seems to be that the volcano is located in Honolulu's backyard, as it were, and that we Honoluluans take our daily exercise by running up to the crater every morning before breakfast. Honolulu is located on the island of Oahu, third island in size in the group, while the volcano, or rather volcanoes, are located on Hawaii, the largest and youngest island, with an area of more than 4000 square miles, which lies nearly 200 miles southeast of Oahu. I might add that after making the trip from Honolulu to Hilo (the largest town on Hawaii) in one of the small inter-island steamers, one would be ready to aver that the big island was much farther removed than this.

"Although scheduled for performance for some years, Mauna Loa took the volcanologists by surprise and gave her celebration several years too soon. Heralded by earthquakes and accompanied by a series of tidal waves and quakes she has proceeded to give us the most spectacular exhibition within the memory of the oldest kamaoia (old residents).

"The first indication of volcanic activity was the presence of a peculiar cauliflower-shaped cloud hanging over the mountain. Three days later, on September 29, the whole heavens were lit up with an apricot glow when, from a huge vent in the mountain's side, a flood of molten lava was belched forth. Spreading out into a great shallow stream, it came down the mountain slope, burning forests, carrying huge trees and immense boulders on its surface—sweeping everything before it. With a speed varying from one to twenty miles an hour, according to the country it was passing over, it broadened out until it was nearly a mile in width. After whirling out the government belt road, razing telephone poles and destroying a vast amount of property, the red hot lava tumbled over a high precipice and plunged hissing into the sea.

"This outbreak was on the western slope of Mauna Loa, occurring at the 6500-foot level, less than halfway to the top of the mountain, whose rounded summit rises majestically 13,675 feet above the sea. This flow reached the ocean on the Kona coast of Hawaii near Ahika, the red hot lava tumbled over a high precipice and plunged hissing into the sea.

mountain and the actual appearance of the lava.

"Miles up the mountain the lava stream became blocked, forming a great lake which spread out on each side seeking a new point of egress. Suddenly, as if a giant hand had tipped the bowl, the lake overflowed. The whole heavens were lit up as the lava, like a great cataract, plunged and boiled over the cliff.

"As days passed by, the aspect of the flow gradually changed. Great banks of cooled and blackened lava were piled up on either side and the stream of pahoehoe (smooth lava) shrunk to a width of about 40 feet. Thus confined in a deep gorge, a river of swiftly moving molten stone sped silently for ten consecutive days, toward the sea, building up the floor of the ocean into new land, and then it stopped. The volcanic fires died as suddenly, as mysteriously as they had appeared, and standing on the still warm lava, gazing at that great black river bed, one can but marvel.

"Gradually all the craters on Mauna Loa have spent themselves, the last glow has faded from the skies, and the 1919 flow is dead.

"Kilauea has been extremely active lately and her spectacular pyrotechnics were not in the least diminished by the splendor of Mauna Loa. Halemaumau (House of Everlasting Fire), as Kilauea's fiery pit is called, is still overflowing, and all the old landmarks, such as the Devil's Kitchen, the postal card cracks, etc., known to tourists the world over, have disappeared—buried beneath the flaming flood."

THE BACK DOOR.

"The structure of civilization that Europe has erected for itself is imposing and beautiful. We in America are confronted with the facade of this great building, and behold from our side of the Atlantic it looks magnificent and superb. Even when we enter it in Europe and behold its many ramifications we still have cause to admire. But there is a back side to this structure of civilization; there are outbuildings, stums and alleys not visible from the front. These back on the Orient, and the rear view of the structure of European civilization seen from the Orient, is not imposing at all."—From "Peking Dust," by Ellen N. L. Motte.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Why Even the Slightest Eye Trouble Demands Attention

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University)

When you scrutinize a thing too closely, the muscles of your eyes undergo a strain. In a short time, perhaps before you are conscious of it, black spots appear before your vision and you are in the act of squinting. This signifies that you have exerted too much strain upon a single set of muscles and that your eyes need rest.

If you are out on a pleasure trip, or even if you are at home and you find that you squint or press your eyes, take some measure for relief at once. These acts become habits if you continue to practice them, and squinting is not only injurious to the muscles of the eyes, but also unbecoming and uncomfortable for you and irritating to persons in your company.

When you are engaged in a pleasant conversation with some one and that person begins constantly to remind you of some of his physical frailties or defects, your pleasure is spoiled, and you become nervous. Your mind is thus drawn from the subject of discussion to "feeling sorry for you, poor thing," and you are quite pleased to be released from that kind of society.

What is true of that person is equally true of you when you begin to remind your associates of your eyes' defects.

When you squint you mar the general pleasure by making yourself unattractive. You have often said to yourself in the secret of your unspoken mind, "she would be pretty, but her squinting spoils her." It not only "spoils her," but it also "makes you nervous."

You squint because your eyes hurt you, and they are in need of rest. In your walks and when you rest never look fixedly too long. If you look before you into the horizon and try to distinguish houses, trees or things in the air you subject the muscles of your delicate eye machinery to undue hardships. When you find yourself looking so hard that you are in the act of staring, close your eyes for a minute or two and put your hand over them. A little respite in the dark will do them good.

Do not open your eyes to the light too suddenly. You thus make the pupils—the little, black, round cavities in the center—contract too rapidly and cause the contracting muscles to work too hard. Open your eyes gradually.

When you read have your reading matter at the distance of one foot from your eyes. This distance brings the reading matter sufficiently close not to involve undue strain on the muscles. This distance is also a good one for sewing. Do not try to boast that you can read from a great distance. Many persons who have normal vision can do that.

Once a tiny adjustment is out of place the whole eye mechanism becomes defective and a breakdown is apt to come any time at all. If you are equally careful to procure a light neither dim nor glaring, neither dark nor too sunny, you may ward off the necessity to wear glasses for a number of years.

OAKLAND AUTO SHOW TO BECOME CRITERION

EXHIBITION WILL CROWD AUDITORIUM

One limitation exists to the Oakland Auto Show. That is the size of the Municipal Auditorium.

Although the building covers considerable ground, even its spread becomes inadequate when every dealer is striving for more space to show his wares. Decorative schemes call for ample room, art for a bigger canvas.

When the big exhibit opens next week every available foot of space will be taken. Never has there been such a demand, the committee reports, and the sections allotted to each entrant have been made as small as possible. More than twice the available space was asked for by dealers who are looking toward the Oakland show as the biggest thing of the kind in this district, and the first large automobile display since war put a stop to such exhibits.

AD. CLUB ENLISTED.
The Ad. Club heard about the Auto Show at its luncheon yesterday at the Hotel Oakland. Unofficially, of course, the Ad. Club members had been hearing about it for a long time. But even they were unprepared for the bottled-up enthusiasm that was turned loose at their gathering when Captain Al G. Waddell, and Robert Martland described the forthcoming event.

Both the speakers declared that the reception they received yesterday is an indication of the popular interest in the show and an assurance that it will be a success to set a marker for all time.

A plan to enlarge the space for automobile shows and other events in the future has been presented to the interested persons. That it offers a solution for the problem confronted when, as on several occasions in the last year, the auditorium has been inadequate to accommodate the crowds, was the opinion expressed by many who heard of the scheme.

KING MAKES SUGGESTION.
Joseph King, former president of the Chamber of Commerce and a leading realty dealer, made the proposal. King was chairman of the committee that supervised the building of the auditorium and he fought for a structure large enough to suit any occasion.

He now suggests that the city purchase a portable one-story building, similar to those used by the government in army encampments during the war period. This, he says, could be stored in a warehouse and assembled when in demand.

U.S. SHIPS EACH EARN $100,000 DURING YEAR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Shipping Board vessels earned about $100,000 each in 1919, according to estimates completed today by board officials. Twelve hundred ships were operated during the year, but it was explained that the net earnings would not be $120,000,000 as overhead and other charges must be deducted from this total.

SHIPBUILDER GIVES HIS MEN VOICE IN YARD

In fulfillment of a promise made when the plants resumed operation as "open shops," six day shipyard today prepared to put in effect a plan adopted yesterday to give the workers a voice in their management.

A tentative scheme was presented to the employees, and it was announced that this was the first step "to insure and safeguard representation, justice and equity."

Notices posted in the yards made the following announcement: "Each department will select a representative below the grade of leading man—a leading man being next to a foreman in authority—who will have access at all times to the management through a personal manager selected to represent the employees."

"The laborers' representatives will elect five of their number as members of the Works Council. The other members of the council will be five foremen elected by all the foremen, and the personnel manager. To this body will be referred all disputes and appeals that the individual representatives are unable to adjust."

Collective bargaining within each yard was the aim of the plan announced when the plants reopened. That this is to be carried out now, is the purpose of the notices to the workmen. The call concludes: "This machinery, in the making of which management and workmen will both have a hand, must be satisfactory to the worker individually and collectively, to the employer, to his superintendent, and to his foremen. The success of the organization, like the success of this yard, will depend absolutely on constructive co-operation between management and men."

BUTTER AND EGG PRICES SUFFER DROP

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Living costs have been reduced from two to 35 per cent, according to a statement from the department of justice this afternoon based on reports received from fair price commissions in all states.

Butter and eggs fell six cents on the market today, leading to triumphant assertions by those backing the housewives' boycott on those products.

Large dealers in produce ridiculed the housewives' conclusion, however, and declared that the sharp drop was attributable to influence entirely different.

Butter slumped from 68 cents a pound to 62 cents, and eggs from 6 1/2 cents a dozen to 6 1/4 cents.

That the fall in the price of butter probably is but temporary was the assertion of dealers. They said it was a "natural decline," due to a predominance of sellers over buyers on the morning market, and that the quotation was almost certain to snap back in a few days.

The drop in egg prices, the dealers said, might prove more permanent. "Our egg prices are governed almost entirely by the New York market at present," asserted one leading dealer. "The number of eggs marketed here is negligible compared with those shipped away, the so-called Petaluma product."

Yesterday, the New York market fell four cents and today from four to five cents. The market here follows it. If a storm arises, the prices of eggs probably will go up again. Otherwise, they may remain down.

"The boycott has nothing to do with it. Why, after the egg boycott was declared on, prices went up nine cents in three days."

What food necessity whose price is believed to be exorbitant will be put under investigation by the Federated Housewives' League of the bay region will be determined at a conference to be called next week in which the executive committee of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Richmond and San Francisco will have a voice.

Mrs. Clara Wilson, president of the Richmond League, has been designated as the official to appoint the time and place of meeting. There are indications that potatoes whose prices are becoming prohibitive, according to the housewives, will be named the food commodity against whose price an organized campaign will be waged.

FAST PIGEONS TO FLY TO AID U.S. RECRUITING

Twenty-eight of the fastest carrier pigeons in the army service at the Presidio, some of which have seen actual overseas service, will be released from the army recruiting truck which will stand in front of Hotel Oakland Friday during the noon hour. The birds will be freed at 12:30.

They will carry messages of greeting to General John J. Pershing from Joseph E. Caine, Mayor John L. Davis and other Oaklanders, which will be relayed to the A. E. F. head from the Presidio. As the racing birds arrive at the Presidio, reports of their arrival will be taken over the wireless telephone outfit with which the army recruiting truck is equipped. Sergeant Joseph L. McDonnell of the recruiting service is making the arrangements for the flight on this side of the bay.

Merchants Will Aid Native Daughters' Ball

Representatives of the Native Daughters attended the meeting of the Merchants' Exchange last night and asked that body to endorse the plans of the order for a ball to be given at the Municipal Auditorium February 5 for the purpose of raising funds for homeless children.

The merchants went on record as favoring the movement.

Their intention of appointing a committee at the meeting of the exchange next Tuesday evening to cooperate with the Native Daughters in their efforts to make the occasion a social and financial success.

For many years the Native Sons and Native Daughters have promoted the work of finding homes for homeless children and the purpose of the proposed ball is to further that movement.

At the request of a member of the veterans of war, the exchange endorsed the plans of the order for the state encampment of the Spanish War Veterans, which will be held in Oakland some time in May.

Auto Bandits Hold Up and Rob 'Friend'

Two men early this morning held up and robbed George E. Parker, residing at 2201 Harrison street, at Twenty-eighth and East Fourth street, of $120.

Parker met the two men last night in an Oakland restaurant and they invited him to spend the evening with them. He accepted and they went to the rounds of Oakland cafes until 1 o'clock this morning. The two acquaintances had a high-speed automobile and a side car. East Fourteenth street was suggested.

They drove out to Twenty-eighth avenue where the two men stopped the car in the shadow of the old brick that line East Fourteenth street, and robbed Parker. Parker's two friends then threw him out of their automobile and resumed their trip out East Fourteenth street.

Trials Set for Ten Alleged Gamblers

Eight persons arrested in the gambling house raid Saturday night, when Captain of Police Woods and a posse of patrolmen broke into the alleged gambling resort of Giles Brown in the Commercial building, appeared today before Police Judge George Samuels. They all pleaded not guilty. They demand a jury trial, which was set by Judge Samuels for February. Emanuel Jacobs, arrested last week by Sergeant Veril Coley on the charge of selling lottery tickets, also appeared in court this morning. His trial was set for February 19.

OAKLAND TO SPEED BOOZE TO OBLIVION

Beginning a day earlier than other cities of the country Oakland is preparing to bid John Barleycorn a long and lingering farewell. While others wait until tomorrow night to say the word which shall speed Old Booze into oblivion, the Hotel Oakland is ready and set for the celebration tonight. There is to be music and dancing and the spirit of carnival, and everyone is going to act as if he cared not a whit that the dry years were dawning.

In other places on the Eastbay the celebrations have been planned for tomorrow evening, and it is at that time that San Francisco will hold its second "new year" revel. Special programs have been arranged at all the restaurants.

The celebration in Oakland is to be a sane one, according to Chief of Police Frank Lynch, who has directed that the strictest order be maintained both on the streets and in the cafes tonight and tomorrow night. Dance hall proprietors and owners of soft drink establishments had a vision of a general letting down of the hair, and these last night, a vision which the police chief says is vision only. Word has gone out that the law is to be enforced to the letter.

LIQUOR SHIPPED AWAY

In an effort to dispose of stocks before January 15, liquor manufacturers have shipped thousands of gallons of whiskey, wine and other alcoholic beverages from the bay cities. Practically every ship sailing for Central and South America is loaded with the wines and brandies of California. Forty thousand gallons of wine, seized in warehouses in San Francisco last week, have been ordered returned to producers following a conference of Theodore Bell, attorney for the wine men, with Justice Wardell, collector of internal revenue. Tonight the steamship Stanley Dollar will take the waves for Kobe and Dairen with the largest shipment of wines ever stowed away on a vessel. Aboard will be 9000 barrels of wine and 10,000 cases of champagne, valued at $1,500,000. Work of loading the vessel was hastened that it might be completed in time, and by morning the ship will be well outside the three-mile limit.

WHITE'S HEIRS LOST

Heirs of the late Robert White, hotel owner, were late in discovering that he owned thirty-five barrels of whiskey and the consequence stand to lose $35,000, according to a report made to Judge Dunne by Henry White, one of their number. They say that, could they have secured the whiskey before the sixteenth, they could have sold it for $1500 a barrel. American consuls and aides abroad who have thought that the dry law had no potency insofar as they were concerned when they feel a thirst approaching, Senator McNary of Oregon has introduced a bill to extend the provisions of the dry act to the consulates.

An idea of the amount of liquor being shipped out of the country was gained today from a Southern Pacific report at Calexico, where, it is said, eighty-six carloads have gone there in the last thirty days. Five carloads a day have been the most the small customs force has been able to inspect, and there is a chance that a number of carloads, not cleared before tomorrow night, will be seized.

RATE INCREASE ASKED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Abrogation of its agreement to pay the city of Eureka 3 1/2 per cent. gross receipts is sought by the Humboldt Transit Company in an application filed with the Railroad Commission. The franchise under which the street car company is operating requires that the company bid for the privilege.

Two Are Held as Murder Suspects

MODESTO, Jan. 14.—O. P. McKenna and Francis McKenna, proprietors of the hotel at Waterford in which Miss Mayme Helm was found dead Sunday morning, were jailed by Sheriff Dallas and his deputies at an early hour this morning on charges of being implicated in the murder of the girl. Other arrests are expected in the case today, the sheriff declares.

R.R. CLERKS, HIN REACH AGREEMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—For General Hines has signed a tentative agreement covering rule working conditions with the brood of railway and steam clerks, freight handlers, expressmen and station employees. The agreement was announced today, is retroactive to January 1 and will be in force during the period of oral control. The agreement provides for a half for overtime after hours, applying to all employees except certain workers whose employment is light or intermittent, for one day's rest each week where operation of the individual railroad would be affected.
